What is a Patient Participation Group (PPG)?

Working in partnership with GPs and practice teams, Patient Participation Groups ensure the patients perspective is at the heart of local provision so that services are of high quality and continuously improve. Groups also provide practical support in the surgery, foster improved communication between the practice and its patients and help patients to take more responsibility for their health.

Has the 'Red and Green Practice' got a PPG?

Yes but we need to 'refresh' our approach and get every patient involved

What does being a member of the PPG involve?

It can mean one or more of the following:

- Receiving information. Preferably by email but if you haven't got an email address please tell us how best to communicate with you.
- Responding to requests for feedback on important local issues impacting on our patients.
- Getting involved in any way your time and skills allow.

How do I get involved?

Simply drop an email to: martin.prior@nhs.net to become a member. For the time being, we need to restrict communications to email to limit time and cost but when we get up-and-running we will sort out how best to communicate more widely
